HOLIDAY WAS A "FINE" DAY

Usually, June 14 is a happy day for the Robert E. Berkheimers, E. Lincoln Ave. It is Mr. Berkheimer's birthday anniversary and the couple's wedding anniversary.

However, Tuesday, June 14, 1955, was more "memorable" for Mr. Berkheimer.

As is his custom he takes a "day off," hosts Mrs. Berkheimer at a special dinner and celebrates at an informal evening gathering with his family.

This year another "incident" was added. Mr. Berkheimer had to make a business trip to Hanover and when he parked his car he intentionally ignored the parking meter fee because, he said, "this is Flag Day, a legal holiday in Pennsylvania, and meters are not in operation on holidays."

When Mr. Berkheimer returned to his car he found it "tagged." He protested to the police who elected to split the fine of $2, accept $1 and advise the Hanover mayor of the "holiday" aspect. The $1 assessment "might be returned to you," the cops informed Mr. Berkheimer.

Journalism Student Tells Of Likes And Dislikes Of Gettysburg Times' Readers

The Gettysburg Times and a cross-section of its readers were laboratory guinea pigs in a recent study made for the department of journalism, Penn State University, by Miss Martha L. Heim, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Heim, Hay St. A graduate of Gettysburg High School and presently a junior at Penn State, Miss Heim conducted a 27-page "Readership Preference Study of The Gettysburg Times" as a course project in the university's journalism school.

Purpose of the study was to discover specific likes and dislikes of Times subscribers by polling readers on the items they actually read. Topics considered were: news, national and local; picture content and photography; personals; "Out of the Past"; "Here and There"; garden and building news; "Today's Pattern"; "Riding With Russell"; "Today's Talk"; poems; comic strips; "Good Evening"; classified advertisements, etc.

Used Questionnaires

Reader reaction to each item was accompanied in the study by clip-sheets of the various departments taken from the Times to illustrate exactly what the paper printed and thus give a better understanding of reader comments.

Miss Heim tried to get a representative cross-section of the 8,000 Times subscribers in terms of the diversified tastes of a readership which includes "Ph.D.s and fruit farmers, clergymen and car salesmen, furniture workers and battlefield guides, canning executives and kindergarten teachers."

Questionnaires were used both for borough residents and out-of-town subscribers with Miss Heim personally contacting local residents and sing the mail for out-of-town readers. Every sixtieth subscriber served by carrier was polled, with out-of-town subscribers being selected at random from Times' files.

Asked 13 Questions

A total of 75 persons completed questionnaires, about one per cent of the subscribers, fifty-seven being completed by borough residents and twenty-three from other communities. The ages of those answering the questionnaire varied from 19 to 92; 52 per cent were men and 48 per cent women.

The two-page questionnaire carried thirteen items which could be answered by simply checking, with three exceptions dealing with other papers read, methods of improving the Times and the sex of the subscriber. Items might ask the reader whether he read the personals, for example, regularly, occasionally, or never, and whether he liked them. Or whether he preferred more local, state, national or international news.

Favor Local News

According to Miss Heim's findings these are the features Times' readers reacted to. Almost two to one they wanted more local news, with national, international and state news ranking in that order. Strangely those who read three other newspapers in addition to the Times still listed preferences in that order.

As far as picture material was concerned most subscribers wanted more state pictures, with national, local and international pictures following. Only a few readers was dissatisfied with the quality of local photography. About half of those polled wanted more reading matter, a quarter wanted more pictures and a quarter liked the present newspaper balance of the Times.

Favor Two Features

Outside the straight news items, highest percentage of Times' readers followed the "Personals," with 97 per cent reading them at one time or another and 69 per cent reading them regularly. All the women and about 95 per cent of the men read the personals. About a quarter of the Times' readers said they would close out their Times subscriptions if personals from their communities were discontinued. Despite the popularity of the "Personals," the major com-

STRIKE TIES UP GROWING LIST OF SHIPS IN PORT

NEW YORK (AP)—A seamen's strike today kept a growing number of passenger and cargo ships tied up at their piers in east and Gulf Coast ports.

Marking time aboard the stranded U. S. vessels were members of the CIO National Maritime Union which yesterday reached agreement with shipping operators. The 28,000 NMU members were permitted to board their ships but were under union orders to keep them in port until three smaller maritime unions had settled terms of new contracts.

More than 400 passengers, whose ships were scheduled to sail yesterday, have been caught by the strike, which applies only to American flag shipping.

Another thousand could be added to the list of stranded passengers if the American Export liner Independence is kept from sailing to the Mediterranean on schedule at noon today.

Passenger ships that missed their sailing date yesterday were American Export liner Excelsior and three Grace Line vessels—the Santa Rosa, Santa Clara and Santa Luisa. The Excelsior was to have sailed for the Mediterranean and the other three were headed South.

Still bargaining with ship owners were two CIO unions, the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. and the American Radio Assn., and the AFL International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots.

The AFL negotiations apply only to tankers and do not concern the dry-cargo and passenger ships held up by the engineers and radio operators.

The board met in an executive session to discuss the resolution and then convened in an open meeting to take a voice vote as required by the state School Code. The board has no power to force Dr. George to resign.

Dr. George, who was placed on two years probation by Federal Court Judge Thomas J. Glary, was charged by the United States Government with evasion of income tax in the amount of $38,000 during a period from 1948-1950, inclusive. Dr. George, who was given 30 days in which to pay his $25,000 fine, will also be required to pay a 50 per cent penalty plus interest, in addition to the uncollected back taxes of $38,000, which will send the total to approximately $100,000.

$11,500 REWARD IS OFFERED FOR MISSING COUPLE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Rewards totaling $11,500 were offered Friday for the return of missing Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth and his wife.

The family designated the Rev. Harry H. Waller, pastor of the First Methodist Church, as intermediary, indicating a belief the wealthy and highly respected couple may have been kidnapped.

Sheriff John F. Kirk, weary from two days of intensive search for clues, had no comment on the kidnapping theory.

The family, speaking through the sheriff, asked that "only persons who are positive concerning the Chillingworths' whereabouts contact Rev. Waller."

The sheriff said luminous dust, brought from the Miami Police Department, uncovered a greater quantity of blood on a lower step leading from the house to the beach where the 58-year-old jurist and his wife Marjorie, 57, disappeared sometime Tuesday night.

Find Other Bloodstains

More bloodstains also were found around a small shelter on the beach below the house, Kirk said. The couple's three daughters—Neve, of New York; Mrs. George Wright, of Gainesville, Fla.; and Mrs. William Cooper, of Roanoke, N. J.—spent Thursday night at the house. Two deputies were there to keep watch and answer the phone.

Courthouse associates of the veteran jurist expressed belief he may have been kidnapped for ransom or revenge.

"If anybody has intended to end their lives, they would have done so right there and not carried them away," said Phil O'Connell, state attorney.

"ALERT" WIRES STIR FARMERS

EMERGENCY PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert (AP)—Despite government telegrams indicating otherwise, the Agriculture Department wants it known that all crop controls continue in effect.

And the wheat referendum, which like crop controls almost became a casualty of Operation Alert 1955, will be held as scheduled on June 25.

The Agriculture Department, as part of its mobilization role, dispatched telegrams to many if not all states Thursday announcing cancellation of acreage allotments and farmers' marketing quotas on all crops except tobacco—and forgot to mention that the orders were just make-believe.

There was momentary consternation in the field offices, for the telegrams sounded urgent and were signed "Benson."

The wires also called off the wheat referendum on June 25—the idea being to unleash full farm production for a supposedly ravaged nation at war.

A department official here sadly admitted: "It was a mistake of course." A second round of telegrams was sent out to explain what had happened.

It was doubtful that Secretary of Agriculture Benson knew anything about it. He had a speech date in Milwaukee and didn't take part in yesterday's operation of the dispersed government.

HYPNOTIZED, VICTIM SAYS

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A Mobilian charged with hypnotizing the young wife of a friend, telling her he was her husband and attacking her, was not indicted by the county grand jury which reported yesterday.

State Solicitor Carl M. Booth said the jury declined to indict Jesse Overton Jr., 25, a television repairman. He had been arrested May 28 on the complaint of the woman and her husband.

The 17-year-old woman, mother of a 4-month-old child, said that Overton assaulted her after putting her in a trance.

Her husband—also a hypnotist—said he found out about it from his wife after hypnotizing her himself the next day.

Officers reported Overton said in a signed statement he had relations with her that day and several times before. Sometimes she was hypnotized and sometimes she was not, he said.

BOND SALES LIFT

Journalism

plaints of the readers centered on the fact that they ought to be "limited," "eliminated" or "improved." Of the editorial features, "Out of the Past" and "Here and There" ranked side by side in popularity, with about 89 per cent reading both features at least occasionally. Of the two "Here and There" was slightly more attractive to subscribers.

Less enthusiastic was reader reaction to "Garden and Building" News, "Today's Pattern," "Riding With Russell," and "Today's Talk." One-third of those questioned never read "Garden and Building News," two-thirds never read "Riding With Russell," a third of the women never looked at the pattern and almost a third skipped "Today's Talk" all the time. As again, in the list of suggestions for improvements women wanted more "helpful hints, fashions, recipes, home-making."

Like Two Poems

The Times' two syndicated poems, "Sketches" by Ben Burroughs and "Just Folks" by Edgar Guest, drew from 42 to 62 per cent of the readers, with most preferring "Sketches."

With no one under 19 polled, "Blondie" attracted 76 per cent of the comic readers, "Donald Duck" 63 per cent and "Scorchy Smith" 26 per cent. The Times' "Good Evening" is read by about 65 per cent of the people regularly but almost everyone reads it at one time or another.

Every reader turns to the classified section occasionally, with 61 per cent reading the ads all the time.

Readers had a good many ideas on how they would run the Times if they sat in the editor's seat. Some would gather more local news on school activities and sports, and feature "more nice write-ups on local people," dropping syndicated items; others want fery crusading for community needs, local projects, "traffic conditions," "improving Center Square." Some would shove local news aside in favor of national or international coverage, giving it greater prominence in position also "by taking obituaries, grass fires, divorces, and petty legal cases" off the front page.

Only 14 per cent of the readers quarreled with type-setting, proof-reading, spelling, or delivery problems.

Among the great majority of the embryo editors, even those who found most need for improvement, the typical comment was "I think our (The Times) paper is the best small town newspaper I have ever read."

WINS AWARDS AT BANGOR HI

Audrey Ellen Brumbach, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John C. Brumbach, Bangor, Pa., and a resident of Littlestown from 1940 to 1950, was a member of a graduating class of 117 which received their diplomas at the Bangor High School commencement exercises Thursday evening.

Miss Brumbach was the recipient of two commencement awards. At the Class Day exercises Wednesday afternoon, she received the Rose Garr Memorial award of $100.

This is an annual award made in Northampton County by the Northampton County Council, Parent-Teacher Associations, to a future teacher graduating from one of the high schools in the county on the basis of scholarship and character. Miss Brumbach is the first Bangor High School graduate to receive this award.

At the commencement exercises she received the German Award, which is a medal presented annually to the graduate who has had the best record in German during their high school course.

Miss Brumbach's main extra-curricular activity has been the Tri-Hi-Y Club. In her junior year she was treasurer of the club and in her senior year was the president. She also served during her Junior and Senior years on the Executive Committee of the Central East District of the Hi-Y-Tri-Hi-Y Clubs and during the same two years was also a member of the State Youth Council of the clubs. In June, 1954, she was the Central East District's delegate to the national Congress at Miami University, Oxford, O.

During the past year, she represented her local club at the United Nations Assembly held in the Education Forum at Harrisburg.

She plans to enter Bloomsburg State Teacher's College in September. During her residence in Adams

GIVE MASS CARE INSTRUCTION IN LITTLESTOWN

The second three hours of instruction of the required six were given at the Littlestown mass care training school in the cafeteria of the local high school Friday evening to approximately 50 volunteer women from the churches of Littlestown and vicinity. There were additional blackboard illustrations, an explanation of Civil Defense general information forms and the presentation of the layouts of the individual churches, as prepared by the trainees, for use as mass care centers.

The Rev. W. R. Sammel, Adams County chief of emergency welfare, presented the three aims of the county: Twelve trained women in each church, the six who have taken the course and six more to be instructed by them; an organized mass care center in every church represented in the training, and a community mass care center demonstration in at least five training centers, using every person trained.

Plans were discussed for first aid course in the community and 21 of the women present signified their intention of taking such a course, if offered, by registering last night. It will be an evening school and further details will be announced in the newspaper. Instructors at the school were Mrs.

MISS J. KELLER

Her bouffant skirt was of nylon and lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

In Wedding Party

Bridal attendants were Miss Mary Keller, the bride's sister, and Miss Evelyn Congleton, who wore lavender gowns, similar in design to the matron of honor's gown. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers to match their gowns.

Clarence Eyer, Gettysburg, R. 1, a cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers were Leo Keller, Gettysburg, R. 5, brother of the bride, and John Witherow, Dillsburg, brother of the bridegroom.

Michael Keller, R. 5, brother of the bride, was the ringbearer. The flower girl was Margaret Keller, R. 5, a cousin of the bride. She wore a yellow organza full-length gown. The mother of the bride wore a navy blue gown, white accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother appeared in a navy blue gown, egg shell white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Reception Follows

A reception was held in the church parish hall after the wedding. The couple will honeymoon for a week at Niagara Falls and Canada. As a going-away dress the bride has chosen a light blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Upon their return they will reside in their newly-furnished apartment at R. 5.

The bride, a graduate of the Delone Catholic High School, is a secretary for W. D. Byron and Sons, Hanover.

Her husband, who attended Gettysburg High School, was discharged recently from the U. S. Army after serving two years.

Out-of-town guests were from Baltimore, Rhode Island, Virginia, New York, Massachusetts, Indiana, New Jersey and Philadelphia. There were about 400 guests at the wedding.

County, Miss Brumbach lived in the Christ Reformed Church parsonage at Littlestown.

Ether Feaser and Mrs. Rhea Ginn, Littlestown, and Mrs. Dorothy Shellman and Mrs. Nettie Bower, York Springs. Coffee and doughnuts were served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Alpha Fire Company No. 1. The program concluded with the Pledge of Allegiance.

Procedures Listed

A list of ten procedures for a church or other group to set up mass care centers which would be recognized by the State Council of Civil Defense and approved by the state coordinator of emergency welfare services, was given to each trainee, with instructions to carry them out as soon as possible. The suggested procedures are that six representatives from each parish receive this instruction and acquaint their own congregations with the emergency welfare program. The required training is a six-hour course in the care of the homeless with four qualified instructors giving the training in their own congregation. A registration list of trainees must be kept, with a verbal roll call at the completion of the instruction period.

The local Civil Defense director should be invited to attend and to administer the loyalty oath to each trainee. A copy of the registration list of trainees should be sent to the County Chief of Welfare Services; a floor plan of the building to be used as a Mass Care Center must be prepared; and a list of staff, with names, addresses and phone numbers, must be forwarded to the County Welfare Chief. Following completion of the foregoing, a Mass Care Center demonstration is to be staged, and each Mass Care Center must have a first aid team.

The Rev. Mr. Sammel stated that whenever any group of trainees are ready to proceed in their own church, they may contact him for information and whatever assistance he can give. The other instructors also offered their services. Mimeographed copies of information used at this school may also be obtained from Rev. Sammel.

Women in this area who missed either the Gettysburg or Littlestown schools are invited to attend the schools at York Springs, June 20 and 21; at Fairfield, June 21 and 22, and at Cashtown, June 23 and 24.

Hardened gum, much like modern chewing gum, has been found in caves occupied by ancient cave men, says the National Geographic Society.

450 FARMERS

R. 4: New Oxford, Farm Bureau building, Guy Sanders, Samuel Dayhoff and Daniel Hoffman, all of Gettysburg R. 5; York Springs, high school, Howard Gearhart, New Oxford R. 2; Charles D. Reinecker, York Springs R. 2, and Peter Griest, York Springs; Biglerville, high school, Crowell Bucher and Richard Musselman of Gettysburg R. 3 and Roy Heckenluber, Biglerville R. 2.

Seventh Day Adventists, or others whose religious beliefs may forbid them to vote on Saturday, may obtain their ballots and cast their votes Monday through Friday. The ballots are obtainable at the county ASC office on York St. and, after they are marked, will be sealed and held until the polls close Saturday night, when they will be counted with the remainder of the votes.

Only Third Are Eligible

While approximately 1,500 Adams County farmers raise some wheat, only 450 are eligible to vote because the ballot is confined to those who raise more than 15 acres of the grain. The marketing quota program does not affect those who have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest in 1956.

If two-thirds or more of the nation's wheat growers approve at Saturday's referendum, marketing quotas will continue in effect for the 1956 crop, Chairman Weaver explained. If more than one-third of the growers oppose, the marketing quotas will not be in effect and price support will be available at 50 percent of parity.

If the farmers approve continuation of the marketing quotas the minimum price support will be $1.81 a bushel, national average, or 76 percent of the estimated "transitional" wheat parity price of $2.38 per bushel.

Today's Talk

A GOD WITHIN

I dare say that the majority of human beings never have really tapped the latent power within them. Emergencies, mostly, are what wake up the soul and give birth to newness of life. An emergency like a sudden call to unusual service, or an awakening to responsibility that deep sorrow or disappointment has created.

I met Dr. John Harvey Kellogg but once, and then only for a brief moment of conversation, but his writings, and the famous Battle Creek Sanitarium which he founded, have been wonderful guides to thousands. The great doctor had a deep and abiding faith and respect for the human body. Here is a saying by him that is worth pondering over and remembering: "The power in which we must have faith, if we would be well, is the creative and curative power which exists in every living thing." Dr. Kellogg practiced this and was a worker well into his nineties!

I have a profound belief that a God lives within each one of us, who takes Him in by invitation. The God performs miracles, as evidenced by many of the great deeds that make a pathway through all history, giving it lustre and inspirational power. We must regularly exercise that "creative and curative power" Dr. Kellogg brought to our notice. It doesn't take an expert to note the fact that cheerful, happy people are the healthiest, and advertise the fact. God put power into the mind and then left it for each one of us to call into action. I am not a Christian Scientist (so far as I know) but I have known many of them, and they are an inspiration. By their beliefs they are known; by their smiles of health and happiness as well.

The next time you face a situation that seems insurmountable, consult that God within you. The mere petition will lift you into the blue!

THE DANDELION

The dandelion doesn't beg for help from anyone. It doesn't have an uncle rich on whom to lean upon. It doesn't ask for favors; doesn't plead for special care. Unaided it will get along and thrive on a matter where. It is a self-reliant plant. Its seed by none is sown. Nobody serves it food and drink or guards it 'til it's grown.

The dandelion has no friends on whom it can rely. And many are the enemies it daily must defy. It feeds on poisons men prepare, it braves the cutting blade. And yet it lives to fight again and comes back unafraid. It never asks of anyone a helping hand to give. But no one yet has found a way to curb its will to live.

So cut it down and dig it out and poison if you will. The dandelion won't give up. Its ranks it will re-fill. Where some were routed yesterday s'll others will appear. It's never beaten, though alone it fights its battle here. Though now and then from spade and rake and blade it may retreat. The dandelion won't admit that it has met defeat.

TANEYTOWN'S CARNIVAL TO CLOSE TONIGHT

The Taneytown firemen's carnival will wind up a week of festivities tonight with the awarding of prizes. The crowds were described as "terrifically big" for the latter part of the week, after cool and rainy weather held down attendance for the first few days at the Taneytown carnival.

Parade Chairman Eugene Eyer estimated that 45 units were represented in the big firemen's parade that featured the Thursday night edition of the carnival. He called it "just as big, if not a little bigger than last year's turnout." The prizes awarded that night were:

Best appearing band, Littlestown High School, $80; second, William P. Myers band, Westminster, $35. Best appearing drum and bugle corps, Harold H. Bair, Hanover, $80; second, Morris Frock Drum and Bugle Corps, Hagerstown, $35. Best appearing fire company marching unit, Alpha Fire Co., Littlestown, $35. Most uniformed men in line, walking, Gettysburg Fire Department, $35; second, New Midway, $20.

Best appearing fire fighting apparatus, Frederick Independent Fire Co., $15; unit coming the furthest, Shepherdsburg, W. Va., and Gaithersburg, Md., 65 miles each, $15 each; auxiliary with most uniformed ladies in line, Westminster Fire Company, $20; best appearing auxiliary, New Windsor Fire Co., $25; second, Damascus Fire Company, $10; best appearing antique auto, Gilbert Stine, $10.

1,100 SENT TO U.S. BY PLANES

LONDON (AP) — Cunard line officials chartered a fleet of planes Friday to carry more than 1,100 American-bound passengers stranded in Britain by a wildcat seamen's strike. The travelers will save at least $14 on the deal—plus the tips they won't have to pay.

The 1,500 strikers, who have tied up eight transatlantic liners, were warned they face drafting into the army. Merchant seamen are exempt from the draft while at sea but can be called up if they go 14 days or more without a ship.

Cunard provided the special air-lift for passengers stranded by the cancellation yesterday of the 81,000-ton Queen Mary. Officials of the line said 200 of the 1,175 passengers from Britain already were en route — 60 on regular flights and the rest on two chartered planes.

The line said 12 more aircraft have been chartered to transport the rest. The company said it would return all fares — $108 in tourist class on the Queen Mary—and the fare on the charter planes would be about $154.

Another 585 persons, most of them American, had been stranded in Paris by the Queen Mary's stoppage. Cunard officials in the French capital said most had arranged plane seats or passage on other ships.

Sailing for Quebec Friday of the Cunarder Gythia was cancelled. She was to have taken 700 from Liverpool and 200 from Paris. Officials said as yet they had arranged no alternate transportation.

HOUSTON (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr said Thursday that the $51,000 worth of jewels which disappeared from her home here about three weeks ago had reappeared.

RESERVE BILL IS "SNARLED"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speedy Senate passage Thursday night of an extension of the draft act left undecided the fate of the new reserve program President Eisenhower says the nation must have.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of the Armed Services Committee, said the reserve bill now "appears to be hopelessly snarled in the House," where it was shelved after approval of a provision to bar segregation of races in reserve and National Guard units.

A four-year extension of the regular draft and a two-year extension of the doctors' draft won shouted Senate approval last night after brief debate during which Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) termed the draft the "keystone of our national defense" and predicted additional extensions will be required in the years ahead.

The measure now goes back to the House which, although it had passed a slightly different version of the selection service extension for four years beyond June 30, has not acted on the doctor draft act.

On grounds that the action might imperil extension of the draft, Russell turned down a Pentagon request to attach to the measure the bill providing for a fourfold increase in the reserves within five years.

White Sox Upset Yankees 2-1 While Cleveland And Bosox Split; Orioles And A's Win

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Those Chicago White Sox leave a pretty strong impression for a club that's supposed to be a weak sister expected to drop out of the American league race any minute now.

Manager Marty Marion's athletes, virtually the same bunch who failed before under Paul Richards, have generally been disregarded as a threat by first place New York, but after spilling the Yankees 2-1 last night, the Pale Hose are just two percentage points shy of the lead.

Cleveland, the team the Yanks figured they have to beat, is 2½ back, beating Boston 3-2 after losing 5-5 in the afternoon portion of a day-night twinnbill.

Brooks Beat Cards
Fourth place Detroit was beaten 3-2 in 11 innings by Baltimore and Kansas City defeated Washington 4-2.

Brooklyn extended its National League lead to 1½ games again, breaking a two-game losing streak by walloping St. Louis 12-1 as Don Newcombe won his 11th. The run-rup Chicago Cubs were spilled by Philadelphia 3-2 while Milwaukee moved to within a game of third place New York by beating the Giants 5-4 in 10 innings.

And Cincinnati, after beating Brooklyn two straight, lost to tail-end Pittsburgh 3-1.

Eighth For Donovan
Righthander Dick Donovan, who was sent packing by the old Boston Braves and Detroit Tigers in previous attempts at the big time, won his eighth against two defeats for the White Sox and drove the Yanks crazy with slow breaking stuff. He had a two-hitter and a 1-0 lead until Mickey Mantle belted his 15th homer to tie it in the eighth.

Marion then called in Sandy Consuegra, who has relieved in four of the Sox' last five games, to wrap it up after Irv Noren singled to open the Yank ninth.

Some 33,744 fans sat in on the Yankee stadium thriller—just a few more than the 33,014 who watched Cleveland's Ray Narleski one-hit the Boston for eight innings after Norb Zauchin's two-run double in the first. Narleski, a last-minute change for Art Houtteman, who showed up with a blister on his hand, pitched a four-hitter.

5th Homer For Newcombe
Billy Klaus homered and got three singles to drive in five runs as Boston made it nine out of 10 in the day game.

Newcombe, only once beaten this season, added his fifth homer to the 16-hit Brook attack that gave the Dodgers their first success of the season at St. Louis. Duke Snider belted his 21st and 22nd homers.

The Giants caught up with the Braves with three runs in the eighth and made it 4-4 in the ninth after Milwaukee regained the lead with a run in their half of the eighth. Danny O'Connell's single after George Crowe's double finally won it for the Braves.

Losing Streak For Senators
It was a single and double combination that won in extra innings for Baltimore, too. Chuck Diering thumped the scoring punch after reliever Art Schallack had singled for the fifth hit off loser Steve Gromek. The Tiger veteran had fanned 10 and walked just one.

Another oldtimer, Max Surkont, had better luck, blanking Cincinnati until Gus Bell's sixth inning homer and then winning his sixth as Ramon Mejias doubled home the lead marker in a two-run Pirate seventh.

Washington and Kansas City each got nine hits, but Arnie Portocarrero won his first of the year with Tom Gorman's help as the A's beat Bob Porterfield with two runs in the sixth. Washington has lost nine of 10.

Eastern League
Ed Bouchee's bat is keeping Schenectady in hot contention in the Eastern League.

The Blue Jays' first sacker belted a homer with two aboard last night to keep the Jays within one game of the league-leading Williamsport Grays.

But Don Minnick, hottest pitcher in the league, notched his ninth victory against no losses for the Reading Indians in setting down the Grays, 4-1.

Binghamton's Triplets, tied with Schenectady for third place, clipped Albany 8-1 on a six-hitter by Jim Coates.

And in a pitching duel at Allentown, the Elmira Pioneers' Jim Gushanas bested Mel Greer to turn back the Red Birds, 5-2.

TIGER JONES WINS ON TKO

NEW YORK (AP)—If Bobo Olson is thinking of moving out of the middleweight division, Ralph (Tiger) Jones figures to be in the picture.

The Tiger handled Ernie Durando with the greatest of ease last night at Madison Square Garden to score a technical knockout at the end of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder. Under New York rules, it went as a sixth round TKO because the bell never rang for the 7th.

Jones, 155½, to Durando's 161, out the Bayonne, N. J., slugger over and under the right eye and on the side of the head. Dr. Vincent Nardello of the New York State Athletic Commission advised Referee Al Berl to stop it "because Durando didn't know where he was."

"I want to conserve my strength," Moore told boxing writers. "I lose more weight on the road than I do in the gym and I've been running between six and eight miles every day. But just once, I'd love to fight at my natural weight which is 165 pounds."

They say now that Archie may weigh less than 175 when they jump on the scale at noon Wednesday in the lobby of Madison Square Garden. He surprised everybody by coming in at 173 last August for Harold Johnson when there was the same prefight ballyho about his weight. Maybe it's true what the rumors say that he really weighed 186½, and not 196½ as announced, for the Nino Valdes match at Las Vegas, May 2.

MOORE NEARS WEIGHT LIMIT

NEW YORK (AP)—As Archie Moore and Bobo Olson head down the home stretch of their training grind for Wednesday's battle of champions, there is every indication Archie already is close to the 175-pound class limit.

Olson, the middleweight champ who is challenging for Archie's title, boxed six rounds yesterday at Asbury Park, N. J. Moore, who is supposed to be having trouble making the weight, didn't bother to box at all, taking it easy at his Summit, N. J. camp.

"I want to conserve my strength," Moore told boxing writers. "I lose more weight on the road than I do in the gym and I've been running between six and eight miles every day. But just once, I'd love to fight at my natural weight which is 165 pounds."

Says Westlake Arrives Sunday

BALTIMORE (AP)—General manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles said last night outfielder Wally Westlake, late of the Cleveland Indians, has notified him he would report here Sunday or Monday.

The Indians traded Westlake, outfielder Dave Pope and some cash to the Orioles shortly before swapping deadline Wednesday for outfielder Gene Woodling and infielder Billy Cox.

There also was balking at the other end. Cox said he had decided to retire and went home to Newport, Pa. Cox's reporting deadline is tomorrow.

BEN HOGAN IS ONE STROKE OFF TOURNEY LEAD

By CHRIS EDMONDS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The shadow of "The Hawk" lay over the National Open Golf Tournament again today.

Ben Hogan, the limping four-time champion dubbed "The Hawk" by his touring pro companions, was one stroke off the pace as the field of 58 squared away for the gruelling 36-hole finals of the 55th annual tournament.

Holding the lead, but looking over their shoulders at the man seeking an unprecedented fifth open title, were amateur Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco and Tommy Bolt, each with 144.

Hogan was bracketed with three others—two of them virtual unknowns on the golf circuit—with 145. Walker Laman Jr., of Augusta, Ga., and Jack Fleck of Davenport, Ia., equalled Hogan's 36-hole total. So did Julius Boros, the 1952 open titlist.

Ward, who flew straight home from Scotland after helping America win the Walker Cup this year, fired a par 70 to reach the halfway mark with a share of the lead.

"I definitely have the edge going into the last round," the former University of North Carolina athlete said.

$6,000 For Winner
The purse for the tournament is $24,000, with winner pocketing $6,000. Endorsements and personal appearances, however, raise the winner's pot to thousands of dollars more than that.

It took a 155 to qualify for today's windup — and defending champion Ed Furgol just made it with that total.

Sam Snead, from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., coined a slick 69, 10 strokes better than his horrible first-day score, for a 148, and professed no further fears.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the masters' champion, made it, too, with a 154.

The Elks brought their season record back up to the even mark of three wins and three losses as they edged the Texas Lunch 11-10 in a close, high-scoring softball league game on the Recreation field Friday evening in a make-up game.

The Elks jumped out in front in the first inning by driving in a trio of runs. Singles by Bill Knox and "Skip" Fisel and two outfield errors accounted for the scoring. They added five more runs in the third. Fisel singled and Cole doubled to put runners on second and third. Saunders then lifted a sacrifice fly to left while Schmitt came through with a single to tally the second run. An infield error and doubles by Bob Miller and Paul Larson aided the last three runners in scoring. Two more runs were produced in the fourth. Fisel led off with a long home run to deep left center. Cole followed with a triple to center and scored on Saunders' ground out.

Lunchmen Rally
Texas Lunch came to life in the third inning when Charlie Kitzmiller doubled, stole second and scored on Montfort's sacrifice fly to right. Two more runs were tallied in the fourth on a walk to Fisel, a single by Timbers and an infield miscue. The Lunchmen then matched the Elks' third inning by scoring five runs in the bottom of the fifth. Walks to Charlie Kitzmiller, George Pair, Ketterman and Fisel, a single by Timbers and a base-clearing triple by Furney followed by Hankey's double all figured in the scoring. The Lunchmen went on to score two in the sixth and one more in the seventh.

The eventual winning run for the Elks came in the sixth. Two infield errors placed Cole on second while another miscue allowed him to score. "Skip" Fisel led the Elks' hitting attack by collecting three hits in five trips to the plate. Timbers blasted out a pair of singles to lead the Lunchmen.

Time To Avoid Trouble On Trip Is To Have Car Checked Beforehand; Road Test Useful

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
According to accident statistics it's the motorist himself who needs a hard top, not the car.

Wrong Time For Trouble
Time continues to demonstrate that one of the pitfalls in touring is to assume that if the car operates well enough around town it will do a good job when it takes to the open road. Wisdom suggests that before starting a trip the car should be taken out on the road and driven at the speeds it will be asked to travel when the trip begins in earnest, but this is too often overlooked. This oversight often results in the car having to undergo expensive repairs while en route. That may upset the entire schedule, including reservations at motels and hotels. In addition to annoyance and perhaps need for being towed to a shop. By having the job done before the trip begins there is opportunity to adjust schedules accordingly. It is also true that some service work bears careful watching for a few days, and often calls for a recheck.

The time to have trouble with a car is before you start on a trip. If performance isn't up to par, better investigate.

Stick To Specifications
Failure to observe factory instructions regarding valve tappet adjusting is resulting in a lot of unnecessary valve trouble these days. So many cars have engines equipped with hydraulic valve lifters we are even witnessing complete failure to check valve clearances where lifters are mechanical.

Typical of the situation with engines which still have adjustable tappets is the case of a 1954 motor which has tappets that require .022 inch clearances for both intake and exhaust valves, and when the engine is hot. This follows directly the 1953 engine which was given a .015 inch clearance for both intakes and exhausts. A smaller engine in this same make is adjusted at .016 inch with the motor cold.

Temperature And Lifters
Few motorists realize it but a tendency for the engine to run a bit hot causes a lot of noise in engines with hydraulic valve lifters. This was pointed out some 20 years ago when such lifters first came into the motor picture. The factories then advised against using too light oil. Today the lighter oils are necessary to reach tight fitting parts, but if the engine tends to run on the hot side this may result in excessive thinning — and then noise. Another thing to guard against is badly diluted oil. This may develop when the choke isn't working properly.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"Having a car ride hard after a paint job seems the height of absurdity but it happens now and again when cars are given a painting or partial painting when raised on a hoist that allows he rear suspension to hang down without support. This may be a convenient way to touch up a rear fender or door, but the springs should be carefully covered to keep paint from being blown in between the leaves or on the spring leaf interliners. When the paint that reaches these parts dries out the car will not ride as well as before. That is, not until the situation is discovered and the paint is removed from the leaves."

Pointer On Safety
It's just a small oversight, but when you have overtaken another car always speed up a bit so that you have plenty of space in which to cut over to the right hand lane again. The driver of the other car may accelerate and be too close when you are swinging back into his lane again. There's something about being overtaken that causes many persons of a competitive turn of mind to want to step on the gas. Some drivers flash their right-turn directional signals when about to turn back to the right lane again. It helps the overtaken driver if he happens to be day dreaming.

The Motor Primer
That little motor thermostat in your car's engine is a fairly simple gadget yet ask any of your friends what actually operates it, valve and you'll be surprised at the extent of ignorance that is forthcoming. Thermostats are, roughly, of two types. One, the bellows variety, uses a liquid as the actuating medium. When heated it goes into gas form, thus providing power to operate the valve. The other type uses a wax-like composition which goes into liquid state when heated, thus providing a means of opening the valve that allows water to circulate through to the radiator. In cooling the action is just the reverse. Thermostats are designed to open at predetermined temperatures. Low opening "stats" for use under normal operating conditions open in the 150 to 160 degree range while those for winter open between 170 and 180 degrees.

Elegance On Wheels
While the text of that fascinating new tome on ancient cars "Bright Wheels Rolling", written by James Melton in collaboration with Ken Purdy, contains many surprises even for the old timer I have found special pleasure in some of the book's unusual pictures. A bulb operated horn with a serpent's head is a good illustration of the variety of illustrations which heightens interest in this colorful book. In another show Melton is giving a horse a look at the engine of one of his vast collection of ancient chariots. One photo reveals Melton driving a White down Park Ave. in the Easter Parade of 1937 with Lanny Ross and Jessica Dragonette as passengers. The book runs the gamut from steamers to the most luxurious of foreign and domestic cars, with comments and stories that make today's motoring just a little tame by comparison.

Not Quite So Simple
Funny how things we sort of take for granted, and to which we attach little importance, can so often develop into fairly complicated topics. Typical is the business of adding water to the cells of a car battery. If water is needed more often than has been customary an owner may find that the generator's regulator isn't working properly. The car may be having an overdose of road use by daylight. The weather may be very hot. If just one cell needs water the indications are that its jar leaks. The average filling is about once a month. Also the same battery in one car may need more or less water than when used in another car.

Currently the battery in my wife's car never seems to need water. This is because there is a very excellently regulated generator circuit. Also the cars used largely on the open road, but it has a number of electrical devices (such as automatic window lifts) which help to take up any overcharge.

What's Your Trouble?
Q. What causes the engine of my car to buck when I am just running along very easily in high gear — about 20 miles per hour? There is no trouble when the motor is pulling or even when running very slowly in high. H. W.

A. This usually is a sign of a too rich idling mixture. When the car is running slowly with the throttle closed to idling the engine is then running on a too rich mixture.

Q. What is the main advantage of power braking, in your opinion? H. N. M.

A. Reduced reaction time is the outstanding advantage as I see it. In other words the brakes start to act as soon as the pedal is pressed. With manual braking you have to press down on the pedal to build up enough pressure for an emergency stop.

Q. I notice that whenever I come back to the city my car rides very hard over the same paving where it ran fairly easily on the way out of town. This has happened so often it has me puzzled. I know it is not imagination. L. McN.

A. You're right. The car does ride harder because the tires have heated while driving over the open road and pressures have increased. Q. I have been told, on one hand, to keep the car tank filled as much as possible. Others tell me to keep it about 3/4 full. What's your opinion of this? Wm. P.

A. The argument against filling the tank is that on sharp curves some fuel may spill out. It is often desirable to leave a little room for expansion if the car is parked in the hot sun. The habit of keeping the tank full, however, certainly is a big factor in preventing condensation in the tank (which results in water in the gas). Perhaps the compromise is to make it a rule to keep plenty of gas in the tank. Running low on gas invites trouble.

Q. The gas gauge on my car shows empty when the tank is pretty well filled. Can you give me an explanation? K. R. T.

A. The electric gauge on your car is a two-wire system. The No. 1 wire will be found to be grounded.

Q. There is a slight piston slap

Ferry Service To Be Tested In Fall

EATONTOWN, N.J. (AP)—A proposed ferry service across Delaware Bay — linking the Garden State Parkway to Lewes, Del. — probably will be given a test run in the fall.

The test run plan was reported yesterday to the N. J. Highway Authority by George Sanders, president of the Hudson River Day Line of New York.

Sanders' line is conducting a survey of the ferry possibilities between Cape May and Lewes. In a progress report on the survey, given at the authority's monthly meeting here, Sanders said it appeared problems would be overcome and that a ferry might be in operation for the spring or summer of 1956.

The major problem, he said, was the need for constant dredging of the channel.

In the engine of my car. Will it do any harm to run this awhile as I should like to have more extensive motor service work done when I have this remedied? S. D. Jr.

A. With hot weather coming along I see no harm in postponing this work. A piston slap usually isn't too troublesome in summer. You get the slapping for just a few minutes while the motor warms up.

Q. It doesn't seem to me that the power booster for steering is as effective as it was when the car was new. Is it normal for this advantage to be lost as a car ages? L. M. B.

A. No. The power "assist" unit needs attention. The drive belt may be slipping, or the unit may be leaking oil.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

SAY PRESIDENT WOULD REPLY ON HIS INHERENT POWERS FIRST

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government emerged today from "Operation Alert 1955" with a clear decision to rely on the "inherent powers" of the presidency to mobilize the country under any attempted real knockout attack.

This decision appeared to rule out any possibility that the administration would seek standby powers from Congress to invoke a swift "freeze" of wages and prices and to assume control of materials and production.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming said the decision to rely instead on the President's inherent powers, as part of which Eisenhower invoked a pretended state of martial law, was the "most important" of the three-day test.

The President rested at his

Gettysburg, Pa., farm today and the remainder of the government had returned to Washington from the 31 hideouts to which 15,000 key officials and workers fled Wednesday in advance of the simulated atom and hydrogen bomb attack. From the hideouts they went through the motions of putting a theoretically stricken nation back on its feet.

Speaking from one of the command posts, Flemming discussed the test with newsmen as the operation ended.

Instead of setting up a reservoir of powers in advance, he said, the President at the moment of attack would invoke his "full and inherent powers." Flemming said Eisenhower made the decision only after he was advised of "the full facts of the devastating attack" which was simulated in the test exercise.

NEWSPAPER IS PUBLISHED FOR CONGRESSMEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Politics is on a high plane around here," Congress members read Friday. "No one criticized the President's new aircraft."

But "one cynical Democrat was heard to mutter: 'Must be a novel experience for Ike riding along in the plane without worrying whether his right wing is going along in the same direction he is.'"

The 12,000 free copies went to all House and Senate members, their staffs, committee aides and other Capitol Hill workers.

Vol. 1, No. 1 had a bit of almost everything in its "completely non-partisan" columns.

along in the same direction he is."

Offering this chit-chat about the President's new two-engine plane and a lot of folksy items about Capitol Hill doings is the first issue of Roll Call, an eight-page, twice-monthly newspaper put out by Sidney Yudin.

Yudin, 32, whose regular job is as an assistant to Rep. Morano (R-Conn.), said Roll Call is the first paper in Congress' history "dedicated entirely to the people and the activities of our little community."

The committee said this yesterday in a report approving a bill to authorize construction of both the atom-for-peace vessel and an atom-powered merchant craft.
